MIDDLEBURY DEFEATED 3-0

Game Characterized by Usual Defects Ragged Interference and no Team Work—Eells and Eddy Star.

"We come to hang our banners." No, the College did not exultingly sing those inspiring words around a mountainous bonfire, for the students were distinctly disappointed at the close Middlebury score. We expected to win 20-0, and the Middlebury adherents feared the same. Why did we barely win? The team, minus four Varsity men, left Utica at 1 p. m. and arrived in Middlebury at meal at 8:30. Such a journey before a game has a very depressing influence. Moreover, the Middlebury team had been reorganized since its 47-0 defeat by St. Lawrence, and showed surprising strength—perhaps our men were too confident.

The game showed clearly that the team has not developed to any appreciable extent since the R. P. I. game. The line presented the usual ragged defense, but of interference there was none, nor was the tackling at all commendable. There is no use dodging the fact that our backs cannot interfere. They seem rather to dodge an in-coming opponent than to make any serious attempt to get him out of the way. Is it possible that our backs cannot utilize the advantages which the split interference system offers? Our coaches have worked for three years without appreciable success. Would it not be wise to fall back on the so-called close interference even at this late time? Life suggests that our coaches give this system a trial at least. No matter how well the line may play and no matter how brilliant a runner the man carrying the ball may be, the backs have a duty which is to get the runner beyond the scrimmage line with practically no delay. If they cannot accomplish this work in one way, let them try in another.

In Saturday's game our ends were weak but seemed to be more so because the defensive half-backs did not give proper support.

Well, to the game.

Hamilton started out with a rush. Middlebury fumbled soon after the

CHANGE IN CHOIR COMING.

Brilliant Parade for Sunday Chapel—New Benches Planned for Choir. Wollcott Chair to be Moved.

Where are the good old days? No more will the choir in straggling array make their entrance through portals of yon Chapel; no more will the gentle pitty-pats of the infant Keddy be heard trailing after the six-league-boots of the prodigious Cal. No more will that melifluous master of Melpomene and pride of Bridgewater be seen streaking across the Campus at the sound of the thirteenth tap. A change has come and, lo, the cohorts of strangers are amidst us. Where are the good old days?

Tidings have come that there is going to be a change, that the choir and especially that portion of it which can't make their eyes behave, is to be disciplined. The present beer-garden effect, while in perfect accordance with the laws of symmetry, is not destined to afford that opportunity for solo work which is sometimes required. And chairs will squeak and chairs will move.

Now we are to have a Sunday procession. Where the choir will form no one knows; perhaps in the steam room of the Gym. or even in the furnace room of the Library. Little mat ter so long as the tuning fork resounds merrily and "Bill" Kultchar hitches up his trousers to the strains of the "Chicken Rag." A grand procession it will be, even as a circus. Far ahead, a courageous courtier (on foot) will issue the warning, "Hold your horses, the elephants are coming." Perhaps there will be some one to precede the parade and make sure that the steam calliope will not come in contact with the trolley wires. But a procession it will be.

Into the Chapel they will come and far to the front—but to a far different front. Where now, O stranger, is the Wollcott chair? Far, far back; close to the organ; even among the angels and archangels. Gone are the chairs, present are benches. Gone are the front seats of the Juniors and present is an imposing rail. Where, O where, is the Junior hatrack. Ay, verily, a change is coming.

CHARLATANS REORGANIZE.

Movement on Foot to Form Permanent Dramatic Society—Committee for Preliminaries Elected.

Thirty men met in South last Wednesday evening to discuss the formation of a college dramatic club and the presentation of a play during the coming Junior Week. The lack of a suitable entertainment on one afternoon last Junior Prom. caused by the disbanding of the Charlatans undoubtedly had much to do with the enthusiasm which was manifested Wednesday night.

Lyon, '13, was elected temporary chairman of the meeting, and after some discussion a committee, consisting of Bates, '12, Lyon, '13, and McLean, '14, was chosen to confer with Professor Shepard and make preliminary arrangements. It is planned to make the Charlatans a permanent college organization with the necessary officers and to institute a nominal membership fee. The committee will draft plans for such an organization and will submit them at the next meeting which will probably be held in about two weeks.

The committee will confer with Professors Shepard and Scollard concerning the choice of a play. At present two dramas are under consideration, "The Importance of Being Ernest" by Oscar Wilde, and "Mrs. Bumpsted-Leigh", a comedy which was successfully played by Mrs. Fiske last season. A large number of college alumni who have at various times been interested in theatrical work have volunteered their aid and are expected to assist materially in the selection of a play.

With the large amount of material on hand in the College, no difficulty is anticipated in selecting a satisfactory cast. The old scheme of one-man-selection will probably be abandoned and a system of try-outs inaugurated. The College is fortunate in having a considerable number of men who have had some experience in the portrayal of feminine roles. Local dramatics for the past two years have been handicapped in this respect. It is believed that the nucleus of a strong dramatic club will be found in the following men, all of whom have done considerable amateur work: Erskine, '12, for two years leading woman of the Charlatans; Dubois, '12, in important juvenile roles in Brooklyn; Myer, Heidner, and Lyon, '13, of the last year's Charlatans; McGibeny, '14, leading woman with the Wabash College Dramatic Club of last year; Royce, McLean and Brown, '14, all of the 1911 Charlatans.

In addition to these men are Batchelor, '13, who allows that he was once "the front legs of a horse"; Kultchar, '13, who will try out for light feminine roles, and Patton, '15, who, it is said, can do the "meet me at the red mill at twelve" act with the ferocity of Leslie Carter, the supine wrigglings of Gertrude Hoffman, and the delicate grace of George M. Cohan.

They say 'twill be some show.

kick-off, a Hamilton man recovering the ball on the 20-yard line. Two line bucks netted but five yards but Knox kicked a pretty goal from the 25-yard line. This unexpected good fortune served only to encourage Middlebury to an increasingly stubborn resistance, for, while Hamilton forced the ball for the remainder of the half, punting was repeatedly resorted to.

At the beginning of the second half Hamilton started to open up the game. Two forward passes brought substantial gains, on one of which Don Root had a clear field before him but was tackled from behind.

For the remainder of the game Hamilton was outplayed; Middlebury gained several first downs on end runs and was materially aided by Knox's poor punting, together with the persistency of our ends in overrunning punts. In the fourth quarter Middlebury forced the ball to our 20-yard line on end runs and forward passes, but here Hamilton held and punted the ball out of danger. Throughout the game the play was chiefly in the center of the field.

This account should not be closed until due credit is given Eells and Eddy for their excellent work. For Middlebury Captain Jackson played a splendid defensive game, making nearly all the tackles.

"DRI" & CLANCY IN LATIN PLAY.

"Menaechmi" the Vehicle for Famous Comedians.

Let those who insist that the American drama is on the decline come forth and state their case, for they shall meet opposition and right strong opposition it will be. Is it through lack of classicism that the contemporaneous stage doth pine? Then be still, oh Brander Mathews, down ye shades of Gaby des Lys, for rescue is near at hand. In the person of the head of the Latin department has it come. And they call it "Menaechmi."

All of which means that within a year the Soper Open Air Theatre, which is now located above the apartments of one Theodore Martin, will be thrown open to the public for the presentation of "Menaechmi" by the Latin students of the two upper classes. And there will be no "trots.' The selection of the play has been made only after the most lengthy deliberation. There were those who argued that a more spicy morsel should be chosen, that the edifying spectacle of the two courtesans as played by "Supine Gesture" Groves and "All Gesture" Hahn, tripping daintily across the stage would lack the required "pep."

But what is a play without a cast? And what a cast was offered. In the role of Johnny Menaechmus, spent roue and homo-circum-urbem, could be placed that juggler of joy, that jovial jinx, that glumest of glooms, Dribals the First. What more fitting than that to his sidewheeler and sedate sattelite should be entrusted the exacting role of Willy Menaechmus, purity personified. Willy Menaech, Clancy; Clancy, Willy Menaech. Thus the cast was picked.

As for the supporting company it is silence personified; but from a certain room in Carnegie can occasionally be heard weird mutterings, "—— but this ——— stuff is hard to pip."

EDITORIAL.

Life has never come forth in defense of that rosy-hued optimism which refuses to gaze upon the dark clouds forming on the horizon and, observing a similar neutrality, has never sunk into the depths of pessimism. When the time comes, however, when it is difficult to discover anything radically wrong with the internal or external workings of the College, when Life looks in vain for a condition at which an editorial shaft may be launched, the College may be congratulated.

Looking over the situation in a perfectly rational way we have reason to congratulate ourselves. The football team is making an excellent showing; the prospects for a victory over Union are bright. We have the satisfaction of knowing that our athletics are strictly clean and that there is not a man in College who is here through any pecuniary motive.

Scholastically we are approaching the crest of the wave. The recent abolition of "trots" by the Sophomore Class, a matter previously commented upon in these columns, must be deemed worthy of no little merit. The Freshmen seem to have buckled down to work and the number of delinquencies in the College is comparatively small. But that does not indicate that there should be any let-up in work.

The minor activities of the Hill are flourishing. A little necessary oxygen has been pumped into the lungs of the Charlatans, the Press Club is working over time and the number of men who are increasing the sport-for-sport's-sake idea by "job-lots" football is constantly increasing.

When everything is considered it must be admitted that conditions on the Hill are normal and healthy. The men are working hard and playing hard and all of them are enjoying it. Things are as they should be.

Accordingly, to you, Mr. Alumnus, and to you, Mr. Undergraduate, we offer this suggestion, don't be tricked into the belief that old Hamilton is going to the dogs. The powers that be may seem to take arbitrary action and to do that of which we do not approve, but the fact remains that no one man, nor two men, nor set of men can materially harm this College. She has stood on this Hill for a hundred years. She has not weakened.

WHERE WE CAME FROM.

In looking over the October Catalog it is interesting to note that Hamilton has representatives from thirteen States, as well as Japan and the West Indies. New York State naturally leads with a registration of one hundred and thirty-nine students; Ohio and Pennsylvania are tied for second place with eight each; New Jersey, Missouri, Massachusetts, the District of Columbia and Indiana have respectively seven, six, five, four and three. Illinois is well represented by "Johnny" Weaver and "Bill" Kultchar. California also has two, and Minnesota, West Virginia, Virginia, Japan and the West Indies each have one. There are two Fellows in Europe. Among the cities New York leads with a registration of fifteen, Clinton is second with nine, and Utica third with six. The Freshman Class has twenty-one men out of fifty-four from outside the State. The Sophomores have fourteen, the Juniors have nine, and the Seniors have six.

BACK TO THE SOIL MOVEMENT.

The Freshmen have taken to farming. The movement started when the "Queen" descended from the throne, equipped with a nice, extra broad, fifty-cent rake, and a determination to rid the Campus of the superfluous leaves. Her, or his, intentions were of the best, but the allies deserted at the crucial moment. Several enterprising Freshmen soon got a corner on the rake crop, anticipating the great demand for those implements that was sure to follow the Queen's suggestion. The call was chiefly for second-hand tools, and the Sophomores happened, by the merest chance, to have a supply of the coveted articles on hand.

As a start the Campus was to be raked, and the work was allotted to the sub-Farmers. Special arrangements were made with Professor Ibbotson, that classes might be changed should they interfere with the pursuit of agriculture. After all these preparations had been made, all was spoiled by the remark of an Upperclassman: "Oh, Slimers, get wise."

The Musical Clubs' program at present promises much. The Quartette will be composed of Thompson, Marsh and Sidle, and there is a possibility that Gouge will accept the other position. Already a large amount of music has been selected and there are excellent prospects for an unusually good Quartette. The soloists will be Knox, and possibly Gouge. The work of the Club proper is progressing rapidly. Shelly's "Dreaming" has been whipped into shape and the Club is starting on several new pieces. The program will probably include a new Tutti-Frutti, a couple of humorous numbers, and a Glee Club number with the mandolin accampaniment. A number of men are trying out for the specialties.

The features of the Instrumental Clubs will be an arrangement of the "Poet and Peasant" Overture, and a Tchaikowsky violin solo by Heidner, Thompson accompanying. There may also be a pianologue by McGibeny.

ALL ATHLETIC TAXES PAID.

For the first time in years every man in College has paid up his athletic tax without having to be hounded into doing it. A few days ago a notice was posted to the effect that 14 men had overlooked this tax. Friday morning Professor Shearer was able to cancel the announcement.

FOOTBALL WEEK OF SPORTS TRACK

PLAY ST. LAWRENCE SATURDAY.

Varsity Will Meet Strong Eleven at Canton.

St. Lawrence will prove a difficult proposition this year. From all accounts the northern institution is represented by practically the same men who defeated us 5-0 last year, excepting the fast quarterback, Williams, whom an injured arm will keep from playing. As the game will be played in Canton, our team will have to undergo an exceedingly tedious trip and will thereby be placed at a considerable disadvantage. Middlebury players said that their team suffered from poor officiating in their St. Lawrence game; we hope that Manager Connell will be successful in his attempts to secure for our game officials appointed by the Collegiate Board, so as to have that recommendation of the fitness and capability of the officials.

As the game is off the Campus, our delinquents may not play. In other respects the team will be fit, as none were injured Saturday. There is a possibility that Fear may be shifted to end to strengthen the wings provided such a move does not weaken the center of the line.

What are our chances? Well, it will be a hard game. We are not at all disheartened by the great disparity in the scores against Middlebury—St. Lawrence beat Middlebury 47-0—but are confident of a tie-score at least.

Practice this week will be shaped so as to remedy the defects in our offensive play and to strengthen the defense against end-runs. Several Alumni are expected to lend a helping hand, and through them we hope that the spirit of fight of the team will be increased.

UNDER CLASS GAME SATURDAY.

The Sophomore-Freshman football game which was to have been played last week has been postponed to Saturday, November 4. Both teams have been practicing on the Quadrangle for the past few days, and there is reason to believe that the contest will be of a higher order than a majority of the inter-class games played during the last three seasons. While the teams have not yet been picked it is announced that Weaver will be at quarter for 1914, with Abernathy at fullback and Ogden and McGowan for halves. The Freshman backfield will be composed of Ingersoll, Miller, Lee and P. King.

SCHENECTADY BEATS 1915.

Cross Country Easy for High School Boys.

The cross-country team representing the Schenectady High School had little difficulty in defeating the Freshman four Saturday afternoon on the Clinton 3½ mile course. Schenectady finished with four firsts, giving them the victory by a score of 22-6.

The race was started at 2:15 from Sigma Phi Hall and finished near Emerson Hall, the total elapsed time being 23 min., 14 2-5 sec. The feature of the race was the running of Staver of the visitors, who finished in almost perfect condition, going back on the course some hundred yards and pacing the second man in.

The men finished in the following order: Staver, S, Dockstader, S, Dillingham, S, Beryl, S, Keddy, H, Lee, H, Ingersoll, H, and Mattoon, H.

EMERSONIANS SCORE TWICE.

Steuben Field Saturday afternoon was the scene of a well played football game between the Emerson Literary Society and Delta Upsilon teams, the former winning by a score of 12-0. The chief feature of the game was the work of Hahn, '13, at right halfback, who made long gains around his opponents' end. The forward pass was used successfully used but once, when on the old shoe string play, Hahn to Batchelor, the ball was carried to the Delta U 15-yard line from which point it was carried over in two downs by Hahn and Clapp. This occurred during the first quarter.

For the losers, Ogden, '14, was the feature. He showed considerable latent ability and will probably be induced to come out for the Varsity. The second touchdown came in the third quarter, when after some hard, straight football, Captain Watkin was sent through the line. Hallock kicked both the goals.

SMOKING STUDENTS MAKE GOOD

Athletes and Honor Men Addicted to the Weed.

In view of the extensive investigations concerning smoking recently conducted by Dr. George L. Meylan, director of the Columbia Nniversity gymnasium, under the direction of the New York Evening Sun, it may be interesting to note the wholesale prevalence of smoking in Hamilton and its effect on the students and athletes.

The statistics of the upper classes show that out of twenty-two men on the football squad seventeen smoke and five do not. This refers, of course, to the period when they are not in training. Out of the twenty-two honor men of the Junior and Senior Classes, fifteen are habitual smokers while seven are not.

In Columbia Dr. Meylan took as his subjects 283 men, 115 of whom smoked habitually. He kept a record of their physical condition at the beginning and the end of two years, and also ascertained what progress they had made in their studies. It seems that 66 smokers gained an average of 8 pounds in weight and 1.2 centimeters in height, as against 6 pounds and 1.1 centimeters for those who did not smoke. In athletics 47 per cent. of the men making the varsity teams were smokers. In the whole university a little over one-half of the students smoked.

Martin, '11, the director of gymnasium, said that he had no statistics on file on account of the short time he has been here. "There is undoubtedly some detrimental effect mentally," he said, "but that effect is so slight that it is more than balanced by the pleasure and comfort derived from the use of tobacco."

SEMINAR HEARS WILLIAMS, '08.

The Senior Seminar in English met in the study of Prof. Lewis Friday evening to hear an extremely interesting discussion of some of the problems of modern journalism by Williams, '08, now a member of the staff of The Utica Press. Mr. Williams presented a two-hour talk, containing a number of personal experiences and anecdotes of the "city room," which appealed strongly to his listeners.

—At a meeting of the College last Thursday Myer and Porter, '13, were elected cheer leaders for next year.

—Cody, '08, has returned from his wedding tour and is now in Utica, at his home at 151 Watson street.

—Professor Calthrop of the Utica Conservatory of Music will hold try-outs for the quartet this week.

—Professor Wood attended the installation of the new chapter of Psi U. at Williams College Friday night.

—The French Seminar met last Tuesday at the home of Prof. Shepard and began reading "Le Barber de Seville."

—F. D. Warren, '02, former Superintendent of Schools in Ilion, was married on Saturday to Miss Helen Maria Webster at the bride's home in Albany.

—Boone, '12, Roberts, '13, North, '13, Little, '15, H. Calder, '15, Calder, '15, attended a dance given by the Union Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi in Schenectady on Saturday evening.

—The following Alumni have been on the Hill recently: Becker, '03, Hoffman, '05, Drummond, '06, Dunham, '07, Allen, Willoughby, '08, Baum, '09, Hastings, '10, Colson, Getman, Mitchell and Parry, '11.

—Boone, Regin, '12, and Barber, '13, form the committee appointed to see that the board walk below the Arbor is repaired. The auditing committee which will close up the books of the 1912 Hamiltonian is Ahlheim, Peters and Walker.

—Burdick, '11, the Root Fellow, spent his summer at Weraigeroda, Germany, with Day, '07, and has now gone to Leipsic to continue the study of chemistry. Day, '07, is the Traveling Fellow from Harvard, and is now located at Bonn, Germany.

CHI PSI SENIORS ENTERTAIN.

Friday night the Senior delegation of Chi Psi entertained the Class of 1912 at the Lodge. A very enjoyable evening was spent in various games, ranging from bridge whist to chess and checkers. The guests played from nine until twelve when refreshments were served. The prize for the highest score in bridge was won by Baird, and the second prize by Pratt. Considerable fun centered about the table where Prof. Ibbotson was playing. It is understood that the idea of each crowd entertaining the Seniors will not be allowed to die out.

PLAY COMMITTEE MEETS.

The Charlatans committee, consisting of Bates, '12, Lyon, '13, and McLean, '14, met at the home of Prof. Shepard last night and discussed preliminary arrangements. The choice of a play was narrowed down to two comedies, one of which it is expected will be decided upon within the next few days. The committee will recommend that a permanent organization be effected and that a president and a secretary-treasurer be elected. To put the organization upon a firm financial basis there will be an initiation fee of $1.00. This may be paid to Eells, '12, who was the last assistant manager of the Charlatans. Payment will entitle any student to try out for the cast of the Junior Week play, to have a vote in the organization, and will include one free admission for the coming production. Members may be present at all rehearsals and may claim their participation as a college honor.

CHANGES IN LIBRARY.

The College will welcome the news that under Prof. Ibbotson's regime one of the first improvements of the Library has been a general rearrangement of the books.

The religious works, antiquated histories, and the obsolete elementary text books have been relegated to the upper floors. The ground floor is thus left for books more frequently consulted.

Here a system of grouping has been adopted which will facilitate reference work. One bookcase has been devoted, for example, to drama and fiction, and another to works indicated as references for prize essay and oration research.

In the magazine room even more radical changes have been made. The magazines are held in a case on the east wall. The current number of each magazine is held in plain view before a box which contains all the recent numbers. The magazines also are grouped by subjects in these divisions: General magazines, historical and law, educational, philosophical and psychological, religious and scientific—including magazines in foreign languages. In each division the magazines are placed alphabetically, running downward.

UNDERCLASSMEN CELEBRATE.

Last night the Freshmen and the Sophomores came together in the annual Hallowe'en celebration. This was the first time the two underclasses have met in a body without some show of hostility. Everyone came with the intention of enjoying himself to the limit. Memories of "gym.-shows" and of the skirmishes of "paint night" were left behind, and under the mellowing influence of several barrels of cider all feeling of class distinction was put aside.

—One of the most interesting features of the October Lit., which appeared on Saturday, is an article on Samuel Hopkins Adams, '91. Also in this issue is the Kellogg Prize Essay, "Mark Twain, Humorist and Philosopher," by Donald E. Stone, '13. An unusually large amount of Alumniana serves to keep up the ties between the Alumni and the undergraduates.

The Press Association has under consideration the publication of a souvenir Hamilton Calendar, to appear shortly before Christmas. If present negotiations are completed, the Calendar will consist of a stamped leather cover and several pages of College views. The Calendar will probably retail for one dollar. The extra copies of the edition according to present plans, will be used for distribution among Prep. schools and Sub-Freshmen.

Effective Service

Correct fitting of glasses means something more than furnishing lenses through which one can see. It means grinding lenses to correct defects of vision. It means adjusting the lenses in proper position to get full benefit from the correction. It means service such as is only found at
